In June, 1989 Gerald Venezia, Chairman of the Massachusetts State Racing Commission since January, 1984, resigned in order to enter private law practice. During his five and one half year tenure, Mr. Venezia demonstrated his commitment to improving the Racing Commission's regulatory effectiveness. Under his direction and supervision the racing commission's personnel consistently directed their energies toward ensuring the legitimate performance of all racing animals as well as toward maintaining fair and honest pari-mutuel operations in Massachusetts.

As the Racing Commission's new chairman, I will strive to ensure strict compliance with the Commission's rules and regulations in order to guarantee the integrity of the sport and the continued prosperity of the racing industry. The Citizens of Massachusetts and patrons of racing deserve nothing less than racing which is well managed and honest. My goal will be to greatly enhance the Commission's services to the public and to continue to maintain the public confidence in pari-mutuel racing in Massachusetts.

THE COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS

STATE RACING COMMISSION

I. INTRODUCTION

The Massachusetts State Racing Commission is a State Regulatory Agency created by an act of the General Court in 1934. Massachusetts General Laws, Chapter 6, section 48 states:

"There shall be a Commission to be known as the State Racing Commission to consist of a commissioner and two associate commissioners to be appointed by the governor and serve coterminous with him. Not more than two of such members shall be of the same political party. The Commissioner shall serve as chairman and shall devote his full time during business hours to his official duties."

The State Racing Commission is one of the eight regulatory agencies under the jurisdiction of the Executive Office of Consumer Affairs and Business Regulation. The Racing Commission is charged with the supervision of the conduct of the business of racing in Massachusetts.

The Commission's foremost responsibilities include the issuance of licenses to Associations who operate racetracks, as well as the issuance of occupational licenses to every person who participates in racing.

LICENSING PROCESS

The licensing process requires that every person participating in racing complete an application on commission forms, and that all questions be answered truthfully. The application is reviewed for completeness by Racing Commission Inspectors who then forward the application to the Board of Stewards/Judges at each track. The Board reviews the application and may, if necessary, interview the applicant. The stewards/judges must determine if the applicant has the required integrity, ability, and the right to the license applied for. Frequently, the Racing Commission Inspectors and the Board of Stewards/Judges will refer an application to the State Police Investigative Unit to conduct a background investigation of the applicant. The Racing Commission also has direct computer access to the Association of Racing Commissioners' International, Inc. files in Lexington, Kentucky. These files are a record of every racing related offense attributable to the applicant anywhere in the country.

APPLICATIONS FOR LICENSURE PROCESSED IN 1989

If the stewards/judges recommend the applicant to be licensed, the Commission Inspectors will collect the required fee and enter the applicant's information in the commission's computer network. At this time, the applicant is issued a license card which entitles him to a picture identification badge. No person can enter any restricted area of a racetrack without a picture identification badge.

OCCUPATIONAL LICENSES

During 1989, the Racing Commission issued 5,832 occupational licenses to persons participating in horse and dog racing throughout the Commonwealth. Occupations licensed include jockeys, trainers, assistant trainers, owners of racing animals, blacksmiths, racing officials, kennel owners, vendors, stable employees, and leadouts.

ASSOCIATION LICENSES

During 1989, the Racing Commission issued dog racing licenses to Massasoit Greyhound Association and Taunton Dog Track, Inc., both located in Raynham, MA, and Wonderland Greyhound Park, Inc. located in Revere, MA to conduct racing during calendar year 1990. In addition, the Commission issued running horse racing licenses to both the Marshfield Agricultural and Horticultural Society and the Hampshire, Franklin, and Hampden Agricultural Society for the purpose of conducting racing in conjunction with their annual agricultural fairs in 1990.

$34,896,234.11 IN REVENUES COLLECTED

In addition to licensing racetracks and participants, the Commission has a primary responsibility to collect revenue in accordance with Chapter 128A of the General Laws. Each licensed racetrack pays daily to the Racing Commission a commission as determined by law, in addition to license fees and assessments. Commission Inspectors collect occupational license fees and fines. All unclaimed monies for outstanding tickets eventually revert to the Commonwealth. The State Racing Commission collected $34,896,234.11 from Massachusetts racetracks in 1989.

ENFORCEMENT OF RULES AND REGULATIONS

The most significant responsibility of the Commission is the enforcement of the rules and regulations of racing. It is only as a result of conscientious, consistent, and aggressive enforcement of the rules and regulations, that we can ensure honest racing.

515 RULINGS - BOARD OF JUDGES/STEWARDS

The regulatory process begins with promulgation of rules and regulations and concludes with the enforcement of those rules. The Board of judges/stewards at each racetrack consists of two persons appointed by the racetrack, and approved by the Racing Commission, and one person appointed by the Racing Commission. The Board of judges/stewards is the most significant link in the regulatory chain. The judges/stewards are responsible for recommending persons for licenses, and insuring that each licensed racing association and all participants are in compliance with the rules and regulations of racing. The judges/stewards carefully examine every license application to determine if the applicant is eligible for a license. The judges/stewards observe every race run at the racetrack and determine if the race is conducted in accordance with the rules. The judges/stewards are responsible for making each race official. The judges/stewards also monitor the conduct of all licensees in all areas of the racetrack. If a licensee appears to be in violation of the rules, the judges/stewards conduct a hearing and make a final determination. If there is a violation of the rules, the judges/stewards may sanction the licensees by imposing a fine and/or suspension.

89 APPEALS TO THE RACING COMMISSION

The judges/stewards' decisions are reviewed by the Commission. If any licensee disagrees with a decision of the judges/stewards they may appeal to the Commission. The Commission affords the appellant an adjudicatory hearing on the merits of his appeal. If an appellant is dissatisfied with the decision of the Commission he may appeal to the Superior Court in accordance with Chapter 30A of the General Laws.

The Racing Commission's regulatory activities have resulted in improved compliance by licensees.

Expending only two million seven thousand dollars, the Racing Commission directly supervised thousands of persons licensed by the Commission and collected over thirty-five million dollars in revenue.

43 FULL-TIME EMPLOYEES

- * Processed more than 5,832 license applications
- * Investigated more than 500 violations of the rules and regulations
- * Conducted more than 515 Administrative Hearings
- * Collected, Audited, and Deposited in the general fund in excess of $34 Million in Revenue

The Racing Commission is utilizing every resource available to them and is succeeding in ensuring that honest and well managed services are delivered to the citizens of Massachusetts.

ORGANIZATIONAL CHART

MASSACHUSETTS STATE RACING COMMISSION

M.G.L. Chapter 6 Section 48

Gerald Venezia, Chairman Jan. - June
Henry J. O'Donnell, Chairman June - Dec.

Associate Commissioner
Christ N. Decas

Associate Commissioner
Charles E. Jackson

The Racing Commission consists of a full-time Chairman and two part-time Associate Commissioners. The Commission is charged with the supervision of the conduct of the business of racing in Massachusetts. In its efforts to ensure fair and honest pari-mutuel racing, the Commission promulgates and enforces rules and regulations, proposes legislation and develops policies to better regulate the Racing Industry.

MEETINGS AND HEARINGS

During 1989, the Commission held 45 executive meetings. Most meetings were held at the Commission Office, One Ashburton Place, Boston, MA, while some of the meetings were held at Suffolk Downs, in East Boston, MA. The provisions of Chapter 372 of the Acts of 1978 have been complied with in the calling of each meeting.

In addition, as required by Chapter 128A of the Massachusetts General Laws, the Commission held six public hearings on five applications for licenses to conduct horse, dog and harness racing meetings. The hearings were held in Revere, Raynham, Marshfield, Northampton and Great Barrington, Massachusetts.

The Racing Commission in 1989 presided over 89 adjudicatory hearings as a result of appeals from rulings of the stewards and judges at the various commercial and fair racetracks throughout the Commonwealth.

515 RULINGS IN 1989

The Commission conducts weekly hearings pertaining to association licenses, violations of rules and regulations, and appeals of fines and suspensions. In 1989, 515 violations of the rules were prosecuted by The Board of Stewards at Suffolk Downs and The Board of Judges at Raynham Park and Wonderland Park. Of those violators fined and suspended, 89 appealed the decision to the Racing Commission.

89 DECISIONS APPEALED TO THE RACING COMMISSION

The Racing Commission, sitting as a quasijudicial body pursuant to the Massachusetts Administrative Procedures act, adjudicated 89 appeals. The Commission has taken extensive precautions to ensure licensees due process throughout the appeal process. The Commission initiated a Stay of Suspension policy. This permits licensees suspended by the Stewards/Judges for a minor violation of the rules that does not compromise the integrity of racing to continue to participate in racing until said licensees have been afforded a hearing by the Commission and a decision has been rendered. Procedural safeguards have been adopted which prevent licensees from abusing the Stay privilege. Hearings must be conducted within two weeks of the granting of the stay, thereby preventing licensees remaining on stays for a long period of time.

Previously, licensees who were suspended for minor violations had no recourse to immediately begin serving their suspension other than to apply to the courts for a temporary restraining order, which proved costly and time consuming. The stay policy has been in effect and has not been abused in the six years it has been in effect.

During 1989 there were 16 requests for stays, of which 13 were granted and 3 denied.

DUE PROCESS AFFORDED ALL LICENSEES

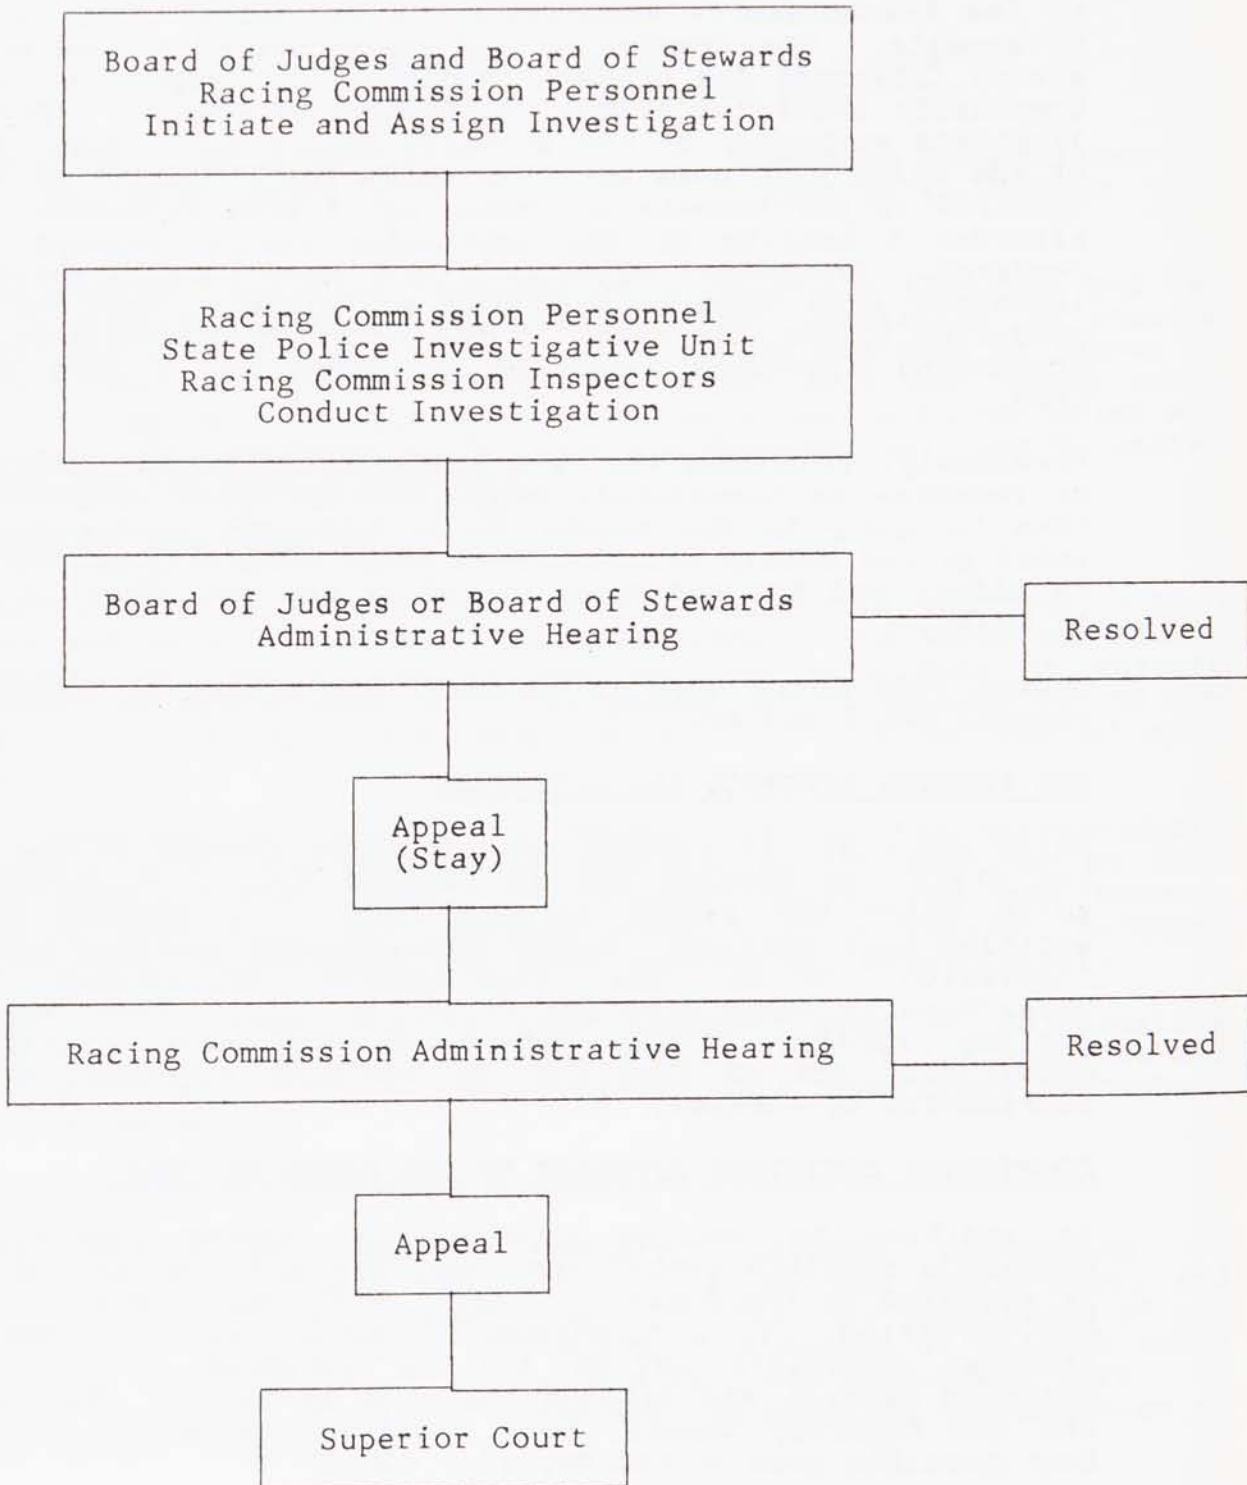

While the right to protect the public is subject to the power of the state, an accused who is charged with a violation of the rules which may result in the loss of a license is always entitled to a hearing. Formal disciplinary hearings held by the Commission follow the requirements established in the Massachusetts Administrative Procedures Act. Such requirements include issuing timely notice of hearings, providing the opportunity for an appellant to confront witnesses and to be represented by counsel.

COMMISSION DECISIONS APPEALED TO THE SUPERIOR COURT

In addition to hearing appeals, the Racing Commission must prepare a complete record and legal decision for each case which is appealed to the Superior Court. When the record is completed and certified, it is forwarded to the Government Bureau of the Attorney General's Office and is assigned to an Assistant Attorney General who defends the case in court. The Commission and the Attorney General work closely together to present the best possible case in the Superior Court.

The Commission takes this opportunity to thank the Attorney General's Office for the diligent, professional, and expert defense of Racing Commission cases.

The Racing Commission is responsible for ensuring the legitimate performance of all racing animals and is also responsible for the integrity of pari-mutuel wagering. This is accomplished through the efforts of Racing Commission inspectors, accountants, laboratory personnel, veterinarians, judges and stewards, State Police Investigators, and the personnel within the Administrative Office.

The Chairman's responsibilities include overseeing the budget process and coordinating the overall management of all Racing Commission activities. These responsibilities are fulfilled by the conscientious efforts of the personnel within the Administrative Office. The Administrative Office is responsible for all phases of personnel management, financial management, fiscal planning, and revenue collection.

OVER 34 MILLION DOLLARS IN REVENUE COLLECTED IN 1989

The administrative office audits, records, and deposits receipts from racetracks for: commissions, breakage, association license fees, assessments, trust funds, occupational licenses, fines and outstanding tickets. The staff transfers receipts to the State Treasurer's office daily.

APPROXIMATELY 2.7 MILLION IN EXPENDITURES IN 1989

The administrative office analyzes the financial needs of the Commission in order to anticipate budgetary requirements. The staff daily monitors cash needs through accurate cash forecasting included in the spending plan.

515 RULINGS - RESULTED IN 89 APPEALS

The administrative staff records and updates a computerized listing of all hearings, dispositions, capital improvement expenditures, promotional trust fund expenditures, complaints, "03" personnel, employed racing officials, stays of suspensions and kennel information.

The goals of protecting racing participants and the wagering public as well as maintaining the public's confidence in pari-mutuel wagering are achieved through the Commission's licensing, revenue collection, and investigative activities. The State Police Investigative Unit plays a vital role in achieving these goals.

M.G.L. CHAPTER 128A, SECTION 8

The Racing Commission applies to the Department of Public Safety for an assignment of a complement of police officers. The Commission assigns State Police officers to guard and protect the lives and safety of the public, property, and animals at all such racing meets. In the performances of their duties, the State Police Investigative Unit investigates violations of the rules of racing and the Massachusetts General Laws. The Investigative Unit's extensive responsibilities and activities have resulted in a major improvement in the Commission's regulatory functions.

STABLE AND KENNEL INSPECTIONS - 67 CASES INVESTIGATED

Stable and Kennel inspections focus on the detection of safety violations, the presence of unlicensed persons in restricted areas, and the possession of illegal medications, drugs, and syringes. These inspections are conducted by officers assigned to the State Police Unit and aide in preserving the integrity of racing.

53 POSITIVE DRUG TESTS - 12 CONTROLLED MEDICATION VIOLATIONS

Protecting the integrity of racing involves animals racing free of prohibited drugs and medications. The Investigative Unit is responsible for ensuring that the testing areas where samples are collected are secure and that the continuity of evidence is maintained with all samples. The State Police investigate each positive drug test reported by the Racing Commission Laboratory, and interview the trainers, veterinarians and other persons responsible.

EJECTIONS - WARRANTS SERVED - ARRESTS

In 1989, 64 investigations involved the service of warrants, the ejection of undesirable persons, and the assistance to track security personnel in making arrests at the tracks for violations not necessarily directly related to racing. In addition, the State Police ejected 35 persons from Massachusetts racetracks whose presence was determined to be detrimental to the best interest of racing.

MASSACHUSETTS RACING FAIRS

The State Police Investigative Unit plays a major role in organizing and supervising security at the racing fairs held in Massachusetts. In addition to their regular duties, the Investigative Unit works with fair management at least three months prior to the opening of each fair. These meetings involve important issues such as track conditions, security, and pari-mutuel procedures. One week before the fair, two officers from the Investigative Unit are involved in initial security preparations. For the duration of the fair season, three officers from the State Police Investigative Unit are assigned full-time to supervise security at the fairs.

UNIFORMED STATE POLICE DETAILS

The State Police Investigative Unit assigned to the Racing Commission oversees and assists the uniformed State Police detail in the test area at each racetrack. Paid by the Racing Commission, this detail is responsible for witnessing the collection of samples, insuring the continuity of samples, and transporting samples collected in the testing area to the Racing Commission Laboratory. State Police training ensures the integrity of samples and provides expert testimony at administrative and court proceedings.

SPECIAL INVESTIGATIONS

The State Police Unit conducted thorough investigations into the background of each individual who was party to the application for a racetrack license at Great Barrington and newly elected officers of existing racetracks for reapplication. These investigations result in information made available to the commissioners of the Massachusetts State Racing Commission for consideration in deliberations of issuing licenses for calendar year 1990.

BACKGROUND INVESTIGATIONS

The State Police conduct background investigations on all racing officials and trainers who participate at Massachusetts racetracks. They also conduct background investigations on many of the other persons licensed at Massachusetts racetracks.

The State Racing Commission Laboratory is an important link in the Racing Commission's effort to ensure that quality racing exists within the Commonwealth. The primary function of the State Racing Commission Laboratory is to analyze samples of urine and blood taken after each race from every winning horse or greyhound and any other horse or greyhound designated by Racing Commission officials.

INTEGRITY OF SAMPLES ENSURED

Special precautions are taken at all Massachusetts race tracks when post race urine and blood samples are collected to ensure that no tampering can take place. In order to assure the continuity of evidence, every winning horse or greyhound and all designated horses or greyhounds are under the surveillance of a uniformed State Police officer and a Racing Commission testing assistant from the time the race is over until the specimens are obtained. Samples are properly identified and transported immediately after the close of each racing performance by a uniformed State Police officer to the Racing Commission Laboratory in Jamaica Plain and placed in a locked laboratory locker for analysis the next day.

Responsibility for the custody of the samples is assumed by the Racing Commission Laboratory personnel once the samples have been placed in the laboratory locker. To eliminate bias, the chemist identifies the sample by number only. After analysis, the results are reported directly to the Racing Commission.

QUALITY ASSURANCE PROGRAM

The Racing Commission Laboratory continued its membership in the Association of State Racing Commission Chemists along with its participation in the Cornell University School of Veterinary Medicine Quality Assurance Program.

OVER 26,000 SAMPLES SCREENED

Despite a heavy workload, the Racing Commission's Laboratory provides high quality results. The laboratory annually screens in excess of 26,000 samples for the presence of illegal drugs and medications. Each year a few samples consist of confiscated meat, vitamin preparations, pharmaceuticals, and hypodermic syringes.

SOPHISTICATED INSTRUMENTS - STANDARDIZED PROCEDURES

Each blood and urine sample received by the laboratory is subject to a series of screening tests according to standardized procedures set by the Association of Racing Commissioners International, Inc. (ARCI). Massachusetts allows the use of phenyl-butazone (bute) and furosemide (lasix) in horses under the direction of the Controlled Medication Program and the Bleeder Program. The Racing Commission Laboratory monitors the levels of these drugs in all equine samples received. All samples that reveal the presence of a drug or foreign substance are then subjected to additional tests to prove or to disprove the initial findings. Unknown compounds must be unequivocally confirmed by the use of such testing methods as gas chromatography and mass/spectrometry.

53 POSITIVE DRUG FINDINGS - 12 VIOLATIONS OF CONTROLLED MEDICATION PROGRAM

Upon confirmation of a positive drug finding, contact is made to the Racing Commission Office in Boston to obtain additional information regarding the sample. The Laboratory informs the Racing Commission of the sample tag number, the name of the track, the date of the race, and the drug found. The Commission informs the Laboratory of the race number, the name of the animal, and the name of the trainer. A report is sent to the Racing Commission with a copy to the track Steward or Judge and a copy to the Racing Commission State Police Investigative Unit for additional investigation and subsequent prosecution. During 1989 the Laboratory confirmed 53 drug and medication positives and 12 violations of the controlled medication program. (See Exhibit "Report of Official Samples Analyzed During 1989")

PARI-MUTUEL OPERATIONS - COMPLIANCE ENSURED

Pari-mutuel responsibilities include overseeing the appropriate distribution of the handle. The handle is the total amount of money wagered at each racing performance and the percentage or take-out of the handle is determined by statute.

SAFEGUARDS

All monies wagered at each racetrack are logged onto an American Totalisator 300 System, a very sophisticated computer system operated and maintained by a private company. At the start of each race, all wagers are mechanically locked into the computer by a Racing Commission judge.

Two independent computers print out the total amount of money wagered for each race. Independent computers are used as a means of verifying that pari-mutuel reports are accurate. The print-outs are used by the Racing Commission accountants to determine the share of the handle for each entity designated by statute.

DAILY AUDIT

Racing Commission accountants check for irregularities regarding pari-mutuel wagering. Completed daily, this activity ensures that exact payoffs are received by the public and the proper revenue is paid to the Commonwealth. A "Summary of Pari-Mutuel Operations" is completed at each racetrack and is certified by both the Racing Commission accountant and the mutuel manager employed by the racetrack. The summary is sent to the Racing Commission auditor who verifies that the information is accurate. This daily audit ensures that the racing industry has complied with all regulations related to pari-mutuel wagering.

ANNUAL AUDIT

The value of all outstanding tickets is returned to the Commonwealth one calendar year after the end of the racing year. An audit of these outstanding tickets is conducted on a yearly basis by Commission accountants.

Racing Inspectors supervise the operation of the Commission's field offices located at Suffolk Downs, Raynham Park and Wonderland Park, as well as temporary offices at the Marshfield and Northampton Fairs. In their role, they must possess a thorough knowledge of and the ability to interpret the rules and regulations of the racing industry. Furthermore, they must maintain a close liaison with the stewards, judges, racing officials, track security, the State Police Investigative Unit, Law Enforcement Agencies, and the Racing Commission, in order to ensure that the operations at each racetrack are efficient and effective.

PROCESSED OVER 5800 OCCUPATIONAL APPLICATIONS IN 1989

Occupational licenses are annual and expire on December 31st, with the exception of stable employees' licenses which expire on March 31st. Inspectors review and process license and registration applications from applicants such as owners, trainers, jockeys, stable and kennel employees, and racing officials.

OVER $150,000 IN LICENSE FEES COLLECTED IN 1989

Commission inspectors were responsible for collecting $156,676 in license fees and $33,395 in fines during 1989. As a result of the inspectors efforts, $190,071 was deposited in the general fund of the Commonwealth.

HANDLE COMPLAINTS

The Commission inspector is the most accessible and visible Racing Commission representative at the racetrack. Complaints and disputes are most often initiated with the inspectors. The complaints and disputes that cannot be resolved at the field level are then reported to the Commission Office for further action.

SUPERVISE TESTING AREA

State testing areas at each track are supervised by an inspector in order to provide for the proper collection and continuity of urine and blood samples obtained from racing animals. Testing assistants who are employed for each program, are trained, scheduled, and supervised in their activities by the inspectors in compliance with established procedures.

During 1989 Racing Commission veterinarians collected 855 blood samples and commission testing assistants, under the direction of the racing inspectors collected 26,127 urine samples from both horses and dogs who participated at Massachusetts racetracks. These samples were tested at the Racing Commission Laboratory for prohibited drugs and medications which could affect the performance of a racing animal.

BOARD OF JUDGES AND STEWARDS

Enforcement of the rules and regulations of racing begins with the prosecution of violators by the Board of Judges or Stewards at the racetrack. One judge is appointed by the Racing Commission, and two are appointed by racetrack management each of whom must be approved by the Racing Commission and must be licensed as racing officials.

RESPONSIBILITIES

The judges and stewards are responsible for reviewing all occupational license applications and for recommending or not recommending the applicant for a license. The judges and stewards are present at the racetrack each day on which there is racing, and they oversee everything from the drawing of post positions to making the results of every race official. In addition, the judges preside over all hearings conducted at the track and report their rulings and findings to the Racing Commission.

Before post-time of the first race the judges review the daily program of races to note any changes or errors. Changes are reported to each department that might be affected by the change. (i.e., mutuels, paddock judges, patrol judges, starters, clerk of course, clerk of scales, program director and announcer. All changes are also reported promptly to the wagering public.)

After observing every race, both live and on television monitors, the judges mark the order of finish as the horses or dogs cross the finish line. They give the first three unofficial finishers to the Mutuel Department, post an inquiry, review an objection, and request a photo finish when necessary. If there is an apparent violation of the rules, the judges review the videotape and then make a decision before making the results of the race official.

If a violation of the rules occurs, the judges notify all parties involved of a scheduled hearing. After conducting the hearing the judges determine if any penalty of a fine or suspension or purse redistribution should be imposed. Violators are then advised of their right to appeal to the Racing Commission.

94 ADMINISTRATIVE HEARINGS IN 1989

In 1989, the Board of Judges issued 10 suspensions or fines to trainers for violations of the medication rules. In each case, the medications detected were minor violations of the rules resulting in fines and short suspensions.

30 FINES OF TRAINERS FOR VIOLATION OF 205 CMR 5.26

The most common violation of the rules in greyhound racing is 205 CMR 5.26 which regulates the weight of racing greyhounds. Violation of 205 CMR 5.26 carries an automatic fine and suspension of the greyhound for six days. The greyhound is also scratched from that day's racing program. The trainer responsible for caring for the greyhound is fined, and if repeated violations occur the trainer may be suspended.

Associate Track Judges are responsible for supervising lead-outs and starting box personnel on the track as well as making sure that no greyhounds are mishandled and that blankets, muzzles and starting box equipment are operating correctly.

Associate Paddock Judges are present for weigh-in of greyhounds and assure that all weights are accurately recorded. They double check Bertillon cards and markings and make sure that all greyhounds are properly identified, blanketed, and muzzled. In addition, they ensure that only licensees and authorized track personnel with proper identification badges are in the paddock. They report any irregularities to the Commission Judge immediately and meet with the Commission Judge periodically. Associate Commission Judges supervise racing greyhounds from the time they are brought to the racetrack until each race is made official.

51 ADMINISTRATIVE HEARINGS

Commission Rule 205 CMR 5.16: (2) (3) prohibits the use of drugs in racing greyhounds. A violation of this rule results when a prohibited medication is found in a urine sample taken from a greyhound after the running of a race, i.e., aspirin, procaine, or D.M.S.O. (dimethylsulfoxide).

During 1989, the Board of Judges issued eight suspensions or fines to trainers for violations of the medication rules. In each case, the medications detected were minor violations of the rules resulting in fines and short suspensions.

22 FINES OF TRAINERS FOR VIOLATION OF 205 CMR 5.26

The most common violation in greyhound racing is 205 CMR 5.26 which regulates the weight of racing greyhounds. Violation of 205 CMR 5.26 carries an automatic fine and suspension of the greyhound for six days. The trainer responsible for the greyhound is also fined, and if repeated violations occur, the trainer may be suspended.
